

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT BIDEN'S ECONOMIC PLAN

THIS IS AN EXCERPT OF A PRO ANALYSIS ORIGINALLY WRITTEN BY BY MEGAN CASSELLA AND CRISTINA RIVERO

HOW WE GOT HERE

This Pro Analysis was originally published July 10, 2020.

In the final months of his campaign — and as the U.S. sinks into a recession and experiences its highest levels of unemployment since the Great Depression — Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden is charting a path forward for the U.S. economy that centers on rejuvenating U.S. manufacturing, supporting American unions and workers and addressing inequalities impacting women and minorities.

Biden, whose campaign set up joint task forces with supporters of Sen. Bernie Sanders (I-Vt.) to work on policy recommendations, has struck an economic populist tone in laying out some of his plans. He is pledging to raise the corporate tax rate and is emphasizing a focus on working families rather than the wealthy investor class.

BY THE NUMBERS

5M

jobs Biden says his plan will help create

$300B

investment in research and development in tech

$400B

investment in government procurement

BREAKING IT DOWN

AMERICAN MANUFACTURING

Build a strong industrial base and small business-led supply chain to retain and create millions of good paying union jobs in manufacturing and tech across the country.

CLEAN ENERGY

Build a clean energy economy, address environmental injustice and create millions of good-paying union jobs.

WORKFORCE SUPPORT

Make child-care affordable and ensure aging relatives and people with disabilities have better access to home and community based care.

THE FIRST 100 DAYS AND BEYOND, COVERED.

Explore more exclusive analyses and infographics from POLITICO Pro so you can seamlessly navigate the first 100 days of Biden's administration.

ACCESS EXCLUSIVE CONTENT

POLITICO Pro is where policy teams get to work. It's where the news and analysis you need, tools you use and policy data you rely on come together to help you get the job done.

Request a demo today: politicopro.com/demo

POLITICOPRO